

Moon Phases Graphic Organizer

You have been asked to explain why the moon has different phases to a group of first graders. What would you say to them? What could you show them to help them understand? Use information from last week's Science Weekly Magazine and the information you receive this week to support your writing.

Monday:

Today you will complete your graphic organizer with as much information as you can.

Wednesday:

Revisit your graphic organizer and add more information and complete your rough draft paragraph.

Friday:

Today you will hand write your final draft paragraph or type in a word document to submit to your teacher.

